1. Why a hardware wallet?

- When you own crypto, what you really own is a private key that gives you access to your coins. You need to keep this key completely safe.

2. What is a hardware wallet?

- Hardware wallets place access to your private keys (and therefore crypto) offline, which means hackers can't get to it - even when your device is connected to your computer.

3. How is your crypto safer with Ledger?

- Crypto "ownership" is not about the location of the coins, but access control. With Ledger, nobody can access your coins but you (not even us).

4. Industry-leading security.

- Ledger Nano are the only hardware wallets that combine independent, third-party certification (ANSSI) TBC* with a proprietary operating system (BOLOS).
